

FAQ: License Management in Multi Entity Management

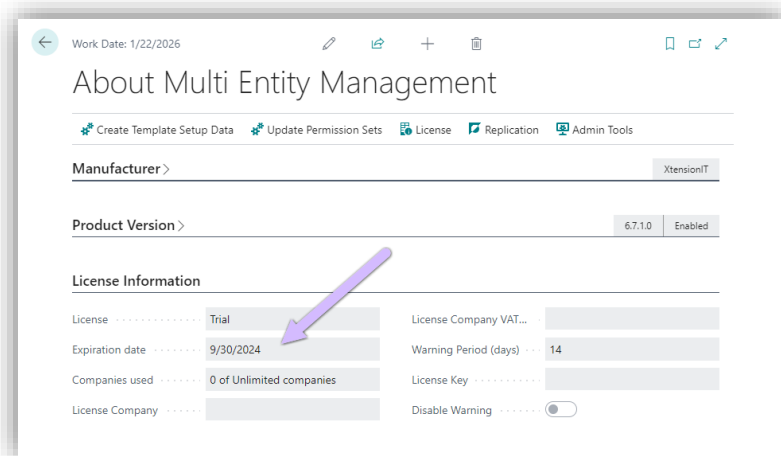

This FAQ document (Frequently Asked Questions) covers questions related to the Multi Entity Management License.

This FAQ apply for Multi Entity Management version 6.7.0.xxxx and later.

1.1 License information.

On the “About Multi Entity Management” page the License Information section displays when the Trial period will expire.

License information when the Trial period is active.

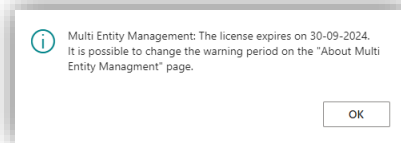

License information when the License is active

1.2 Trial license.

When installing Multi Entity Management, a Trial Period to the end of the following month will be granted. In this period Multi Entity Management, will be functional without any restriction. 14 days before the Trial Period end, a Warning message will appear.

See the next section how to change the warning period.

1.2.1 Expiration Date, How to Disable Warning

When the Trial Date, Lease Period or Maintenance Date Expires, there will be a message, to inform about disabling of the “Data replication.” Functionality.

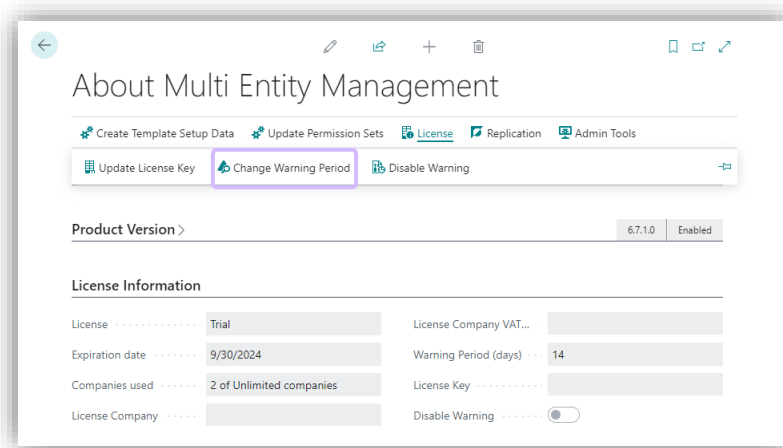

This message can be disabled at the “About Multi Entity Management” page.

1.2.2 Change Warning Period

- The “Warning Period (days)” show how many days before Expiration of the license, a warning will be show for the users.

It is possible to change the Warning Period, so the warning message do not appear every day.

In the “About Multi Entity Management” page, choose “License” and “Change Warning Period”. Then assign the number of days to the next warning.

1.3 Expiration Date

When the Expiration Date is exceeded, the replication functionality is disabled. Data is not deleted, and the replication can be resumed with an updated license.

1.4 Disable Warning

It is possible to disable the Expiration warning message, after the expiration period.

1.5 Update license

To enable a full functional license, you must require a license key from your Dynamics 365 Partner or directly at XtensionIT ( info@xtensionit.com ).

To get the license you must provide the “VAT No.” registered to the company that hold the license in the environment/database.

Work Date: 1/22/2026

Choose “License” and “Update License Key”.

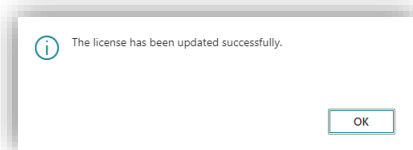

Select the Company where the license will be uploaded to.

The “VAT Registration No.” shown is registered in the Company Information, and must match exactly the License ID, noted at the Multi Entity Management license letter.

Insert the “License Type” and “License Key from the License Letter provided from your Dynamics 365 Partner or XtensionIT.

The License will return with a message.

After reopening the “About Multi Entity Management” page, there will be information about the number of Replication Companies and Expiration Date.

1.5.2 Business Central localizations without “VAT Registrations No.

Note: This section can be skipped if there already is assigned a VAT Number to the License Company

When using Microsoft Dynamics 365 Business Central localizations, without the “VAT Registration No.” the License Key will be based on other Company identification.

The localizations without “VAT Registrations No.”, will have the field hidden, so it is not possible to type the Identifications number at the “Company Information” page.

When doing the Update process, insert the Company Identification No. from the License Letter into the empty “VAT Registration No.” field.

Then confirm that the “VAT Registrations No.” is modified.

1.6 Replication Companies.

Multi Entity Management is license by the number of environments and companies that uses the replication functionality.

It is only Companies that are set up for Publishing, Subscribing or as Report Company, that are counted as a Multi Entity Management company.

A company is registered in the license, when one of the following features is activated.

- Template Company
- Depending Company
- Reporting Company
- Consolidate
